"ARE THE REPUBLICANS IN TO STAY?"

The Hon. George F. Hoar, United States senator from Massachusetts, has written an answer for the North American Review, to the question which forms the headline to this article. Mr. Hoar is very careful to introduce at the beginning of his noteworthy answer, the wise remark of Hosea Biglow.

"Don't ever prophesy—unless you know!"

But nevertheless Mr. Hoar makes an answer based on certain contingencies which is well worthy the very serious consideration of party leaders. He makes one statement which has the solidity of truth in it—that there never has been a time since the close of the war when the large majority of the legal electors of the country has not been on the side of the party that conducted the war to its successful issue. It is then shown that the democratic party obtained a few electoral votes in 1880 by the forged Morey letter which the democratic national committee endorsed as an excellent campaign document for the party; and that the democratic victory in 1884 was gained, not because the party had the most votes but because of the artful aid of Burdard's alliteration. If the republican party can provide against such accidents as those of 1880 and 1884, Mr. Hoar does not see why the party cannot remain in possession of the government for another term of twenty-five years.

It has been claimed by republican renegades that the party has lost its ancient virtue, that it has become corrupt. But the persons who make this charge are usually disappointed politicians and do not carefully examine the history of the republican party. It is just as Mr. Hoar says, that some abuses did grow up under the administration of General Grant. Five United States judges were driven from office by threats of impeachment. Four members of congress were deleted in selling their influence. The Credit Mobilier scandal was one of the fruits of that administration. Motley was dismissed from St. James, Sumner was deposed from the chairmanship of the senate committee on foreign affairs, and the younger Dana could not be confirmed by a republican senate. All these were wrongs, and Mr. Hoar denounced them at the time, and his judgment was wise. But in comparison with the democratic administration, that of Grant's was the gospel of political righteousness. Republican leaders may have blundered, but the party still possesses its "ancient virtue," and the only way for the leaders to do now is to make the administration of Harrison one of practical reform, one based on sound business principles. The republican party is in itself all right. Its temper is all right when the leaders and the appointing power are all right. Placing none but good men in office, that is easy to do, will help to make the republican party strong. Improving the civil service will strengthen the confidence of the people in the premises of the party made in its platform. Legislation of a progressive and a practical sort, that which is for the benefit of the people and not in the interest of corporations or trusts, will solidify the party. The proper temperance legislation is that which is wise and meeting the sentiment of the more judicious and earnest temperance people, will do much to widen the influence of the republican party.

The way the republicans can make their stay in office sure, is to keep up with the sentiment of the intelligent class of people. In other words, to use the language of Mr. Hoar, the bible of the republican party, its creed, its thirty-nine articles, its Five Points, its ten commandments, are these:

1. The equality of every citizen with every other.
 2. The obligation of the state to see that every citizen has an education which shall fit him for these duties and privileges.
 3. The absolute freedom and parity of election.
 4. The standard of wages must be kept up to the highest possible point.
 5. Polygamy must be destroyed.
 6. The drinking saloon which debauches the soul and corrupts our politics, must be suppressed.
- If the republican party shall make these propositions its articles of faith, the republicans are in to stay.

DR. BUCKMASTER'S RESIGNATION.

The following is Dr. Buckmaster's letter to the State Board of Supervision, transmitting his resignation as superintendent of the Wisconsin Hospital for the Insane, at Mendota:

MENDOTA, Oct. 25th, 1889.

To the State Board of Supervision:—
GENTLEMEN:—Please accept my resignation of the position of superintendent of the Wisconsin State Hospital for the Insane, at Mendota.

It is with a heavy heart that I am compelled to resign this position. I have been in the service of this institution for the past ten years, more than half of that time as its superintendent, and I am, I regret to say, unable to continue in the service.

It is with a heavy heart that I am compelled to resign this position. I have been in the service of this institution for the past ten years, more than half of that time as its superintendent, and I am, I regret to say, unable to continue in the service.

To the members of your board I can never be sufficiently grateful for your unvarying kindness and support during my many arduous responsibilities, worries and annoyances.

During the past few years we have made many changes and improvements here, and I cannot recall a single instance in which you have not complied with every request that I have made, and the best wish that I can frame for the many hospitals of our land is that the relations existing between their superintendents and the governing boards may be as cordial and pleasant as ours have been.

With the many improvements we have made, and with the completion of those now under way, such as the laying of hard wood floors throughout all the wards, the new iron roof on the building, the putting in of new heating apparatus, the making of additional exits to all the fourth-story dormitories, the opening and repairing of the large sewer to the lake, and so on, I feel that I can leave the institution in good condition, a credit to the state, and worthy of the fullest confidence of the public, who so often commit their afflicted ones to institutions of this character with many misgivings.

Again sincerely thanking you for all your kindness and courtesy to me and mine, and hoping that this institution, in which I shall always be greatly interested, may long continue under your charge, and that of others equally worthy of the public confidence and support. I remain, Respectfully yours,

S. B. BUCKMASTER.

Dr. Buckmaster resigned the superintendency of the Mendota hospital for the purpose of accepting a position in the Metric Grange Company, of Chicago, which pays him a much better salary than the state pays its superintendents of hospitals. (The leading of this place to Dr. Buckmaster is a splendid tribute to his ability.)

The Milwaukee Sentinel of this morning publishes the resignation of Dr. Buckmaster, together with the following summary of the proceedings of the board: The resignation of Dr. Buckmaster was formally accepted, and the board passed suitable resolutions, expressing their regret at the loss of Dr. Buckmaster's services. The question of electing a successor then came up for formal discussion. A number of applications had to be considered. President Luling stated that he did not consider one or two gentlemen who had written him applicants, for reasons which, however, he did not care to state. The names which were then submitted are those of Dr. H. E. Bradley, Milwaukee; Dr. DeCord, first assistant at the Wauwatosa asylum; Dr. Frank T. Pember, Janesville; Dr. C. E. Armstrong, Fond du Lac; Dr. W. D. Moorehead, Wauwatosa; and Dr. Louis R. Head, Geneva Lake. One informal ballot was taken, the result of which the gentlemen did not divulge. The names of those gentlemen who were not voted on will not be considered again this afternoon, when the formal ballot is to be taken.

Dr. Buckmaster has accepted the superintendency of an interest in the Metric Grange company, of Chicago. His previous position was that of superintendent of the Wisconsin Hospital for the Insane, at Mendota, where he had been for several years.

Capt. Weeks, the new warden at Waupun, was present at the meeting and submitted several reports about the prison, that have already been given in the Sentinel. Regarding the change of warden Mr. Luling took occasion to remark: "I am tired of the insinuations made and brought out periodically against Gov. Hoar. I request the Sentinel to state that this board alone had entire control of the matter and assumed all responsibility. Gov. Hoar never made any suggestion or gave any advice regarding Col. Carter's removal. This board recognized that his management of the prison was a bad one."

Here Mr. Smith interposed: "Yes, sir, a decidedly bad one, and for that reason we voted against him."

"And therefore," Mr. Luling continued, "we determined on a change. I told Mr. Carter, as far back as last June, that he could not possibly be re-elected. Of course he preferred to be allowed to resign rather than to be dropped. I told him that it could be arranged; that we would reappoint him, but with the direct understanding that he would resign as soon as we saw fit. The majority of the board was not satisfied with the management. Two weeks ago when we were at Waupun, we found things in a very bad shape. But again, I say, Governor Hoar had nothing whatever to do with it. The principal fault found with Warden Carter's management, it is understood, was the lack of discipline among employees."

The board considered a number of routine matters. The salaries of some of the employees at the Wauwatosa hospital were raised in a few instances. Today the board will view a number of fire escapes at private and public buildings.

MONTANA IS ALL RIGHT.

A dispatch from Helena, Montana, under date of November 4th, says: The state canvassing board met this morning and finished the canvass of the state vote. The entire republican state ticket is elected with the exception of Toole for governor. The supreme court and six out of the eight district judges are republican, the senate is a tie, with a republican lieutenant governor to cast the deciding vote, and there is a republican majority in the house of six. In the contest in Jefferson county, the republicans expect to gain one member of the house, which will give them a majority of eight on joint ballot. There is a tie for the joint member of the house in Beaver Head and Deer Lodge counties, which will necessitate a new election.

SPICY SIFTINGS.

A dull season—tasteful pepper. When a man has a catarrh it is cruel to him his eyes any further. Justice is like a girl embraced behind a shutter—blind-folded.

Advice to a St. Lawrence pilot—when you see a rapid "shoot" it on the spot. It is the man continually cramped who finds difficulty in keeping his head above water.

An Irish sailor, speaking of Paris, said he didn't like a craft where horses was the chief "mata."

Harrison, the "boy preacher," is worth about $50,000. What a fortune he will have when he gets to be a man.

We read of a Kentucky man who was paralyzed by a mosquito bite. It is a wonder that the bite didn't paralyze the mosquito.

J. D. CONGER.

A FATHER'S AWFUL CRIME.

HE ATTEMPTS TO EXTERMINATE HIS ENTIRE FAMILY.

He Kills His Three Daughters, Wounds His Wife and Son, and Then Commits Suicide.

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 5.—In the Municipal court Monday Judge Keyes gave a decision in the case of A. M. Long and other students of the State University, who refused to testify in the Riley hazing case. He examined the case carefully, and decides he has the right to compel them to testify or be punished for contempt of court. If the boys persist in their refusal to testify he will commit them for contempt of court, and as a commitment of this character is not bailable and a writ of habeas corpus would not prevail a great deal of excitement exists in University circles. Some fifteen or twenty students are implicated. Some of them have already left and gone to other colleges. Attorney Bashford persists in his determination not to permit the boys to testify; and the chances are that the court will soon be overflooded with students. The court adjourned until Wednesday, giving the unwilling students until that time to make up their minds whether or not they will testify.

AN INSANE MAN'S DEED.

He Fatally Wounds His Wife and Three Girls.

LOWELL, Mich., Nov. 5.—A terrible tragedy occurred near Argonne, Kent county, at 4 o'clock Monday morning. While laboring under a temporary fit of insanity Haggar Westbrook, a farmer 43 years of age, seized a hammer and dealt his wife three blows with it, fracturing her skull. He then went to the room where his three girls, aged 3, 8 and 12 years, were sleeping and attacked them in the same manner, after which he proceeded to the bedroom of his 17-year-old son with the intention of killing him. He struck the boy a light blow, which glanced off and awakened him. The father wrenched the hammer away from his son, who ran down stairs, followed by the boy. Westbrook went straight to his own room, where his son arrived just in time to see him cut his throat with a razor, inflicting a wound that caused instant death.

The youngest child died at 5:30 p. m., and the mother and the two older girls can not recover from their wounds.

TROOPS FIGHT WITH INDIANS.

Conflict Between Soldiers and Redskins, a Corporal Being Missing.

TUCSON, Ariz., Nov. 5.—News has reached here of a fight between Indians and a detachment of troops from Fort Huachuca, ten miles from Crittenden. A number of shots were exchanged, but none of the soldiers were hit, although Corporal Griffin is missing. Signal fires are seen in the Whetstone mountains to the south and the Salt River Pinal mountains to the northwest. From this it would seem there were more Indians out than the fugitives who murdered Sheriff Reynolds and guard Saturday, as the distance to Crittenden would necessitate their traveling 150 miles in twelve hours. Sixteen detachments of cavalry from various posts are out making every effort to intercept and capture the Indian convicts.

LYNCHERS DEFY A JUDGE.

Instructions to a Missouri Grand Jury to Indict Them Cause Open Defiance. COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 5.—Judge Dunkhart in his address to the grand jury directed that body to inquire carefully into the hanging of John Wing, and to indict all concerned in the affair for murder in the first degree. He directed the jury to also inquire into the attempted hanging of James Dyer, who was rescued by the sheriff and taken to a place of safety. A large number of farmers were in court when Judge Dunkhart gave his instructions, but they openly threaten to break Dyer when he is brought here for trial on a charge of murder, even if they have to do it on open court.

PAN-AMERICANS AT ASHLAND.

A Forenoon at the Home of Henry Clay—Welcomed at Cincinnati.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 5.—Monday morning the international American delegates were driven to Ashland, the home of Henry Clay. Here they found an old-time southern mansion and a courtly southern welcome from Major Henry Clay McDowell, their host. The rooms were filled with pretty girls and it was surprising that the delegates received the information that all of them were descendants of Henry Clay. After the reception the visitors were taken to the rear porch of the house to look at the lawn heavily carpeted with the faded blue grass and bounded by walks whose bordering shade trees were planted by Henry Clay. They saw Kentucky's chief of the horse world here, and thoroughbred stallions. A collation was then served, after which the visitors were driven to the famous cemetery, where the remains of Henry Clay, at 11:30 a. m., were interred. The delegates then returned to their train and started for Cincinnati.

CAUGHT IN THE BLIZZARD.

Three Cattle Men Frozen to Death on the Plains Near Folsom, N. M.

DENVER, Col., Nov. 5.—Intelligence has reached here of a dreadful fatality which occurred during the blizzard of Thursday night. Henry Miller, the range foreman for Col. R. G. Head, with several cowboys, camped near Sierra Grande, N. M., with 1,500 head of cattle. At 4 o'clock that morning the blizzard from the northwest struck the herd, driving the cattle toward the panhandle of Texas, the cowboys being unable to hold them. Miller called his men together and they started to follow the herd and attempt to keep them bunched so far as possible. They followed them for some time, but finally lost track of the herd and became separated.

Friday night one of the men wandered into Head's ranch, half dead from cold and hunger. He told his story and as a result the frozen bodies of Henry Miller, Joe Martin, and Charlie Jolly were found lying in the open plains not far from Folsom. The other men succeed in finding their way into camp before being overcome with cold.

It Is Nearly Completed.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Nov. 5.—The last spike in the new double track of the Chicago & Alton railroad will be driven with in a few days, when the Alton will have a double track between this city and Chicago. Several hundred men have been put to work to complete the new line.

Caroline Eliza Wright, 72 years of age, walked recently from Trenton, N. J., to New Brunswick, in the same state, a distance of twenty-six miles. From there she took the train to New York, and from New York she walked to Jamaica, L. I., a distance of fourteen miles. Mrs. Wright lived at one time in the family of Abraham Lincoln at Springfield, Ill. She did all his household spinning. Her husband, William Wright, worked the first hand-press which Horace Greeley owned in his basement printing office in New York.

CASTING OFF THE YOKE.

The New Ball-Players' Organization States Its Grievances.

New York, Nov. 5.—The council of the Brotherhood of Base Ball Players, which was held Monday at the Fifth Avenue hotel, lasted until after 7 o'clock. The first few hours of the meeting were taken up by routine business, and when the delegates assembled after a short recess Messrs. Andrews, O'Rourke, Hanlon and Ward were appointed a committee to draw up a statement defining the position of the brotherhood toward the national league. The statement, which is the first official word from the brotherhood on the difficulty with the league, is as follows: It is no longer a secret that the players of the league have determined to play next season under different management, but for reasons which will, we think, be understood it was deemed advisable to make no announcement of the intention until the close of the present season; and now that the struggle for the various pennants are over and the terms of our contracts have expired there is no longer reason for withholding it.

"In taking this step we feel that we owe it to the public and to ourselves to explain briefly some of the reasons by which we have been moved. There was a time when the league stood for integrity and fair dealing. To-day it stands for dollars and cents. Measures originally intended for the good of the game have been perverted into instruments for wrong. Players have been bought and sold and exchanged as if they were sheep. Reservation became with them another name for property right in the players. Even the disbandment and retirement of a club did not free the players.

"Two years ago we went to the league and attempted to remedy some of these evils, but we completely failed. We made a strong effort last spring to reach an understanding with the league. They replied that matters were not of sufficient importance to warrant a meeting and suggested that it be put off until fall. Upon this final refusal to meet us, we began organizing for ourselves and now are in shape to go ahead next year under new management and new auspices.

"We believe that it is possible to conduct our national game upon lines which will not infringe upon individual and natural rights. We are to be judged solely by our work, and believing that the game can be played more fairly and its business conducted more intelligently under a plan which excludes everything arbitrary and un-American we look forward with confidence to the support of the public and the future of the national game."

On Wednesday the first annual meeting of the Players' National League, as the new organization is called, will be held at the Fifth Avenue hotel. There the final disposition of clubs and players will be made. It is definitely understood that Brooklyn and Buffalo will take the place of Indianapolis and Washington, and it is said that the players of these clubs will be distributed to New York, Buffalo and Pittsburgh. The fact that John M. Ward will manage the Brooklyn team is also pretty well assured.

Marriage Not a Failure.

"How is your daughter Nancy getting?" since she married Al moved out her Cal' forny; said the first Indiana man. "Is she doing well?" Why, bless ye, she's getting 'long perfectly lovely. Her first husband died, leavin' her $5,000 in cold cash, and 'twas three months 'fore she had order for a consumptive worth $10,000. Oh, but she's a rattler, that gal!"

How He Read the Sign.

At Napa, Cal., a lawyer after attending to some papers brought to him by a colored man, inquired: "How did you happen to come to me with this business?" "Well, you see, sah, I read the sign on your office, 'Nigger Republican,' and I concluded to patronize you."
